St Martins Youth Arts Centre has over 35 years experience training young people in the performing arts. St Martins make art because we believe children inhabit the earth, not just inherit it. We don’t believe that children are the future; children are the drivers of the future in the here and now.

St Martins currently runs weekly drama workshops for over 200 young people in both Northcote and South Yarra.

St Martins are delighted to present a program of weekly after school workshops for 9-12 year olds in St Albans. Running throughout 2016, beginning Term 2.

St Martins has been working with St Albans East PS, St Albans North PS, St Albans PS and Stevensville PS over the last six months to give children performing arts and actor training, whilst also exploring inclusion, team work, collaboration and confidence building.

Workshops begin at 4pm, students can be supervised at the host school from 3.30-5.30pm. All workshops will be supervised by trained and experienced staff that have current working with children checks.

We acknowledge the barriers to the arts that exist for many young people because of disability, cultural difference or social disadvantage and we offer scholarships and programs to overcome these barriers.
